About the International Center

The International Center (IC) within the Division of Student Life provides a wide range of services to support the international community on the Ann Arbor campus and beyond. The IC works with academic departments and administrative units at U-M and Michigan Medicine on immigration related matters and engages the international population through cultural, social, and educational programming.

Immigration Advising, Casework, and Compliance: The IC works with international students, scholars, faculty, staff, and dependents in several nonimmigrant visa categories. The IC provides immigration advising services for these individuals, ensures institutional compliance with federal regulations, and files employment-based petitions with the federal government for employees on all U-M campuses including U-M Flint and Dearborn.

Programmatic Initiatives: The IC's Global Engagement and Education Abroad (GEEA) team hosts various programs and activities to engage the international population. Signature events include extensive orientation activities, the Intercultural Leadership Seminar, Lunch & Learn events, 60 Minutes Around the Globe, and more. In partnership with the University Career Center, the IC also offers career focused programming and coaching to international students.

Education Abroad: The GEEA team also advises and offers workshops for students interested in education abroad, promotes and provides recruitment activities for the Peace Corps, and manages the Peace Corps Prep Program.

Health Insurance: The IC's health insurance team administers U-M's mandatory health insurance program for international students and scholars. They also assist students and scholars who have questions about health insurance procedures and claims.

Advocacy: In 2024, the IC hired its first International Student Advocate to focus on health and well-being initiatives, engage with international students facing personal challenges, and to coordinate the IC's emergency fund and retention scholarships.

U-M International Community

13,718 students, scholars, employees, & dependents supported by the IC

NOTE: The data in this report is for the U-M Ann Arbor campus only.

“ Being an international student at Michigan has opened a wealth of new possibilities, experiences, and opportunities. Despite the challenges, being a Wolverine, especially an international one, has been truly rewarding. ”

Ayeyi Asamoah-Manu

Civil Engineering BSE
Ghana

“ Being a student at Michigan means I come from two different places that share a big space in my heart, for example smelling the scent of cardamom and saffron in my Saudi coffee as I watch squirrels in the Arb, or singing Mr. Brightside in the stadium while hearing a song by Abu Baker Salem in my head. ”

Maryam Altayeb

Psychology BA
Saudi Arabia

“ The IC has been instrumental in helping me navigate many challenges, especially through events like the International Lunch and Intercultural Leadership Seminar. IC staff has also been invaluable. For instance, Angela Oduro has consistently answered my health insurance questions making me feel both welcomed and supported. ”

Dildora Abdusattarova

Higher Education MA
Uzbekistan

“ The International Center has helped me connect with students and scholars from different backgrounds worldwide, learn more about each country, and experience U.S. culture through workshops and social events on various topics. ”

Jasper Hsieh

¹ Only F-1 OPT students sponsored by other institutions are counted as F-1 OPT employees. U-M F-1 OPT students employed by U-M are counted in the student section.

² IIE defines a "Scholar" as individuals "on nonimmigrant visas engaged in temporary academic activities and not enrolled as a student." As a result, some employees/scholars counted in the IC Annual Report from the same time period are not counted in the IIE Open Doors Scholar report.

Employees & Scholars by Campus Affiliation

Note: Due to changes in historical reporting and recordkeeping, groups included in campus affiliation counts vary by year. For the years 2015-2018, counts include J-1 scholars without U-M job appointments only. For the year 2021, the count includes employees only (including J-1 scholars with job appointments but excluding J-1 scholars without job appointments). Counts for the remaining years (2019, 2020, 2022, 2023, and 2024) include both employees and scholars.

Methods & Definitions

The data in this report were compiled using a combination of sources including official U-M enrollment data, internal International Center records, and data from the U.S. Department of Homeland Security's Student and Exchange Visitor Information System (SEVIS).

To maintain consistency from year to year, the following methods and definitions are used for this report:

International Students are defined as students enrolled on the Ann Arbor campus for the reporting term based on the official U-M Third Week Count enrollment snapshot from M-Pathways who, at the time of the snapshot, had a citizenship status of non-resident. This includes students whose status in the United States is sponsored by the university (e.g. F-1 and J-1) as well as students enrolled in other non-student based statuses (e.g. F-2, J-2, H-4, TN, H-1B, etc). Students who were listed as undocumented, U.S. permanent residents (including students pending permanent residency), and U.S. citizens are not considered "international students" for this report.

OPT Students are defined as F-1 students sponsored by U-M with active SEVIS status as of November 1 of the year indicated who show an OPT status of requested, pending, or approved for post-completion or STEM extension OPT in the SEVIS system where the period of OPT begins on or before or ends on or after November 1 of the reporting year. Most of these students are U-M graduates/alumni. Some may have completed course requirements and may still be completing thesis or dissertation requirements. In the event an OPT student was also enrolled in classes for the corresponding reporting term, they were included with the student count and not the OPT count. J-1 students with approved Academic Training who were not enrolled in classes during the reporting term are also included in the OPT count.

OPT (Optional Practical Training) is a benefit of F-1 status that provides employment authorization for students/graduates to gain practical experience in their field of study. Most F-1 students who complete a U-M program are eligible for one year of post-completion OPT. Students who complete certain STEM programs as designated by the U.S. Department of Homeland Security are eligible for a 24-month extension of OPT, known as STEM extension or STEM OPT. Academic Training is similar benefit available to J-1 students. The IC is responsible for continued record keeping, reporting, and compliance for students on OPT/Academic Training and likewise continues to provide them with advising services.

Scholars are defined as J-1 Exchange Visitors with active SEVIS status as of November 1 of the year indicated with an Exchange Visitor Category of Research Scholar, Short-Term Scholar, or Professor who did not also hold active job appointments as of November 1 of the reporting year. In the event a scholar was also enrolled in classes for the corresponding reporting term, they were included with the student count and not the scholar count.

International Employees are defined as individuals who, as of November 1 of the year indicated, had active and regular (i.e. non-temporary) job appointments on the Ann Arbor campus and a citizenship status of non-resident. F-1 OPT employees were counted as such only if the employee's underlying visa status was not sponsored by U-M. OPT employees are most likely recent graduates of other U.S. institutions. Employees counted with a visa type of "Other" mostly include those with a status of TN, E-3, and O-1. In the event an employee was also enrolled in classes for the corresponding reporting term, they were included with the student count and not the employee count.

Dependents are defined as spouses and children (under the age of 21) of international students, OPT students, and scholars who, as of November 1, had active dependent status (F-2 or J-2) in the SEVIS system. Employee dependents, except for J-1 employees, are not counted.

Campus Affiliation determination varies by group. For students, this is determined based on the academic group of the student's priority program as identified in the Third Week Count snapshot from M-Pathways. For scholars, campus affiliation is determined by the host department or site of activity name provided to the IC during the initial J-1 scholar request. For employees, campus affiliation is determined by the appointment department group of the employee's job with the highest FTE.

Education Abroad

Since 2015, statistics for participation in education abroad at U-M have been compiled by the Office of the Provost. Current and historical data since 2015 can be found at <https://global.umich.edu/about/publications/>.

From 2004 to 2014, this data was compiled in collaboration with the Education Abroad Office (now Global Engagement and Education Abroad) of the International Center and LSA's Center for Global and Intercultural Study (CGIS). Historical data can be found on the IC website at https://internationalcenter.umich.edu/sites/default/files/IC_Educ_Abroad_Hist_Data.pdf.

Questions about education abroad data may be directed to Dr. Amy Carey, Assistant Vice Provost for International Engagement.
